Spring 2018

Whispering Earth Sustainability Training Centre

Sprouting Seeds Café & Bakery

The Café and Bakery is now celebrating one official year of operation! We are so proud that Aye Aung won the PPIC (Product Package & Innovation Competition) for all of Myanmar!

With this award we are able to start traditional cooking classes, a yoga studio and expand our natural product line as well as reach more youth for trainings.

We welcome volunteers to come and support our projects here in Myanmar.

We need your support April 9-13th!

After many years we are now in the process of purchasing a 7 acre farm on the outskirts of Kalaw for the start of our newest project; the Whispering Earth Training Centre! The centre will be a space for living and learning about: natural building (bamboo & earth), Permaculture, organic farming, appropriate technology and holist education teacher training. It will also link directly with the Sprouting Seeds Café and Bakery in town, giving opportunities for both locals and international guest to learn about sustainable models of living.

We have shared our vision for the project and now have a family ready to sell their land for a fair price knowing the aims of a new training centre which will support capacity building in the local region.

You can support us from April 9-13th through Global Giving Little by Little Campaign with matching donations up to $50 at 50%. This is our chance to raise the necessary funds to purchase the land and begin work on the land before the monsoon rains!

Your support can help us purchase the land immediately!

Thank you for your kind support!
